Changes

The only major change we were discussing was how to move forward after one of our group members dropped the course. We were discussing how to split the tasks (taking into account the tasks the member who dropped the course was supposed to do) in order to finish on time. After speaking with the professor he told us we do not need to implement her stories, due to this we were able to finish all our tasks and finish our project on time.

Concerns

As a group we were concerned about how our project would be affected after one of our group members decided to drop the course. We were concerned that we may not be able to finish all the user stories assigned to the group member who dropped out. After speaking with the professor, he told us we do not need to implement her stories, this allowed us to finish our project on time.
